

Péter Horváth: With Bug Blood – Shavings from a Wooden Cross

448 pages

Péter Horváth, József Attila- and Morishige-award winner writer is the author of not only the many successful books. He is one of the creators of two musicals, Attic and Somewhere in Europe. His new novel can be read as a political crime story – a story of a modern carrier set in historical context. But, and maybe it is the most important, the book is an exciting portrait of an adorable agent in the Middle Ages.
